DELIVERED BY DR. EUGENE SWOPE, FIELD AGENT FOR FLORIDA AUDUSON SOCIETY.

A free illustrated lecture, on "Our Wild Birds," will be delivered at the Y. M. C. A. building Friday evening, Dec. 26, at 8 o'clock. The lecture is given by Dr. Eugene Swope, the field agent for the Florida Audubon Society, and also agent for the Na-tional Association of Audubon Socie-

The protection of our wild birds is no longer based upon sentimental claims, but upon their economic value to agriculture and fruit-growing interests. The agricultural department at Washington has given extensive re-search along this line and advises, hardly without exception, the protection of our wild bird.

Dr. Swope has been engaged one month in this work in Florida and has lectured in twenty different Florida towns; and in many places the Boards of Trade and the Women's Clubs have taken a lively interest in the work. Dr. Swope will give three months more to this work in Florida and will travel pretty much over the entire state lecturing and organizing Junior Audubon classes in the schools.

Last year Florida was the banner state of all the southern states in this educational work and it is to be hoped that she will keep in the lead this Her only rival is Tennessee, While Christmas week is an important time for anything that tends to divert from Santa Claus, still it is hoped that there will be a large at-tendance at the lecture Friday evening and that men and women as well as children will attend, for the mes (George B. Small Pillow an Excellent Gift For the Woman Who Takes Long Rides.

A small pillow that she can use in the motor during the day when off on trips and at night as a head rest has been arranged by one gir! who likes creature comforts and yet knows that small space for luggage is allowed her in the car. Have a cushion at her back when driving she will, and also she likes a small one to place beneath her head at night. To be allowed to take two she was not, and she found herself confronted by a problem.

The reason of this was that the only practical covering for the rubbing and a strong edor and is not pleasant to sleep on. So finally she hit upon the plan of making her own leather cover so it would slip on and carried linen ones for night.

Buying two soft skins, she cut the case the size suited to the cushion, adding an extra inch to turn under. On three sides, she stitched it, turning the four corners that those at the edge to be left open should be square and well shaped. Then she bethought that unless there was some protection dust of the day would settle in the open side, soiling the white pillow.

To avoid this she cut a flap four inches wide, the length of the case. This she basted inside across the open, making it serve as a wide tongue. Then, besting back underneath the extra toch of leather, she put the case in the machine and sewed it, using heavy twist, making the effect of a wide hom about the whole cushion. At each corner of the tongue she sewed a small hook and an eye to correspond on the inside of the case to hold the corners down when the cushion was in. To close the two edges there were leather buttons and buttonholes. To slip the pillow into this was the work of only a moment, and the fastenings held it securely protected from dust. When she wanted to use it in the house the cushion was taken out, the leather case put aside and one of white linen substituted. For the fair motorist who is not so utilitarian in her tastes is designed the attractive cushion pictured. This comfortable head rest is smart if carried out in leather and stenciled in a conventional pattern in several shades of brown and yellow, or it is softer and more feminine when made from burlap and embreidered in heavy rope silks.

Ossobeted Purse Holden Learn to weave ribbons into workbags. It's fascinating employment, and you'll find it a valuable art as Christmas approaches nearer and near-er and your pocketbook grows thinner and lighter, for those ribbon bags cost very little, and they make a wonderful showing for the amount of money expended upon their material. The most effective bags are woven from ribbons of inch width in two colors or in two shades of a color, and to make a receptacle of moderate size there must be five and a half yards of each tone. These strands are woven fiatly, after the manner of a cheap splint basket, into a square measuring a few inches over a quarter yard. When finished this woven piece is laid smoothly over a square of plain satin or taffeta, and two of its sides are ribbon bound in order to prevent fraying. The square is then doubled once, the two ribbon bound sides stiffened with strips of whalehone and the tons of
